DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Waldner et al. (US 6,141,413).

Art Unit: 2645

Regarding claim 1, Waldner discloses a telephone number/web page look-up apparatus (column 1, lines 6-15), (which reads on claimed on "a browser equipped telephone capable of displaying a web page by a browser") comprising:

an inputter (13 on FIG. 2) , which inputs a URL (column 10, line 40) of a web page (column 10, lines 38-43) [The keyboard and mouse is used to input the URL of the web page to the browser];

a transmitter (25 on FIG. 4), which transmits the URL inputted by the inputter in a form (column 10, line 59) that can be distinguished from a voice message (column 10, lines 56-65) [The web browser transmits the URL inputted by the user which is different from the voice messages recorded on the voice mail system];

receiver (10 on FIG. 2), which receives a URL (column 10, line 26) and associated voice message (column 10, line 18 "answered telephone call") from the outside (column 10, lines 14-37) [The web-enabled terminal receives the telephone number and the URL associated with the number];

an answerer (5 on FIG. 2 )which records and reproduces the URL and associated voice message (column 6, line 61 "telephone calls") received by the receiver (column 6, lines 59-65) [The auto attendant records voice message in the voice mail system and the URL associated with the telephone call]; and a decoder (10 on FIG. 2), which converts into a character format (column 7, line 16 "text message") and sends to the browser the URL reproduced by the answerer (column 7, lines 13-22) [The web-enable terminal allows the user to have text message on the browser terminal and to process other telephone calls operation].

Art Unit: 2645

Regarding claims 2 and 9, Waldner discloses the inputter automatically fetches a URL of a web page being displayed and sends the URL to the transmitter (column 10, lines 24-37).

Regarding claims 3 and 10, Waldner discloses a URL encoder, which converts into a tone signal format the URL of a character format inputted by the inputter, wherein the decoder converts into a character format the URL of a tone signal format received by the receiver (column 10, lines 38-55).

Regarding claims 4 and 11, Waldner discloses a URL function identifier, which determines whether the telephone of the other party has a URL function (column 8, lines 45-55).

Regarding claims 5 and 12, Waldner discloses the URL function identifier transmits a URL function identification request at the time a call is placed (column 8, lines 60-64), and transmits a URL function identification reply in response to a URL function identification request from the other party at the time a call is received (column 8, lines 64-67).

Regarding claims 6 and 13, Waldner discloses the URL function identifier transmits a CTRL function identification request to a calling party at the time a call is received (column 8, lines 29-37), and returns a URL function identification reply to a called party in response to a URL function identification request from the called party (column 8, lines 37-45).

Regarding claims 7 and 14, Waldner discloses the transmitter adds delimiters before and after the URL, respectively, and transmits the URL together with a voice message (column 7, lines 40-58).

Regarding claim 8, Waldner discloses a telephone number/web page look-up apparatus (column 1, lines 6-15), (which reads on claimed on "a browser equipped telephone capable of displaying a web page by a browser, a method for recording a URL of a web page in an answering mode"), comprising the steps of:

inputting a URL (column 10, lines 38-43) [The keyboard and mouse is used to input the URL of the web page to the browser];

transmitting the URL in a form (column 10, line 59) that can be distinguished from a voice message (column 10, lines 56-65) [The web browser transmits the URL inputted by the user which is different from the voice messages recorded on the voice mail system];

receiving a URL (column 10, line 26) and associated voice message (column 10, line 18 "answered telephone call") from the outside (column 10, lines 14-37) [The web-enabled terminal receives the telephone number and the URL associated with the number];

recording and reproducing the received URL and associated voice message (column 6, lines 59-65) [The auto attendant records voice message in the voice mail system and the URL associated with the telephone call]; and converting the reproduced URL into a character format (column 7, line 16 "text message") and providing it to the browser (column 7, lines 13-22) [The web-enable terminal allows the user to have text message on the browser terminal and to process other telephone calls operation].

Regarding claim 15, discloses a program storage device readable by machine for tangibly embodying a program of instructions executable by the machine to perform, in a browser equipped telephone capable of displaying a web page by a browser, a method for recording a URL of a web page in an answering mode, the method comprising the steps of:

inputting a URL (column 10, lines 38-43) [The keyboard and mouse is used to input the URL of the web page to the browser];

transmitting the URL in a form (column 10, line 59) that can be distinguished from a voice message (column 10, lines 56-65) [The web browser transmits the URL inputted by the user which is different from the voice messages recorded on the voice mail system];

receiving a URL (column 10, line 26) and associated voice message (column 10, line 18 "answered telephone call") from the outside (column 10, lines 14-37) [The web-enabled terminal receives the telephone number and the URL associated with the number];

recording and reproducing the received URL and associated voice message (column 6, lines 59-65) [The auto attendant records voice message in the voice mail system and the URL associated with the telephone call]; and converting the reproduced URL into a character format column 7, line 16 "text message") and providing it to the browser (column 7, lines 13-22) [The web-enable terminal allows the user to have text message on the browser terminal and to process other telephone calls operation].

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Krane is cited for a communication system and method of providing access to pre-recorded audio messages via the Internet (FIG. 1).

Byford is cited for a system for accessing data files in a computer network (FIG.1).
